Your kids might not know the difference. Their kids won't know the difference. Don't let your digital memories get left behind.

Save Your Digital Stuff: Practical Strategies for Preserving Your Digital Materials

A Program Celebrating Preservation Week 2012

A majority of the items created today are in digital form. Staff from the National Digital Information Infrastructure and Preservation Program, Library of Congress, will provide some basic, practical tips for preserving personal digital collections.

Tuesday April 24, 6:30pm – 8:00pm
Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial D.C. Public Library
901 G Street N. W. Washington, D.C.
